First, we need a new email address

Important 🎓

This email must not be associated with any existing Microsoft or Azure account.

In this video, let's create a new Outlook email account.

If you already have a Microsoft account that hasn't been used for Azure, you're good to go.

Otherwise, go ahead and create a new Microsoft account using that fresh email, not your university email.

Since we created our email using Outlook,

a Microsoft account has already been set up for us.

Log In with Incognito Mode

Log into your Microsoft account using an incognito or private browser window. This helps avoid session issues during the signup process.

That's it!

You're ready to start building with Azure!
